

LALVIN Tango Malbec™

Reveal the power and elegance
of your wines

Lalvin Tango Malbec™ was isolated by the National Institute of Agricultural Technology (INTA) in La Consulta area (Uco Valley, Mendoza, Argentina) during a yeast selection project from Malbec fermentations. Studies carried out by INTA on fermentations using grapes sourced from various regions in Mendoza, but also experiments conducted in different wineries in the region, demonstrated that Lalvin Tango Malbec™ has good fermentative properties, and helps bring forward the fruit characteristics of the varietal, as well as impacting on the structure and balance in the mouth.

Research in collaboration with Washington State University

Natural Solutions that add value to the world of winemaking / www.lallemandwine.com

